Thousands of educational videos viewable anytime, anywhere!

Put the power of digital media into your courses with Films on Demand streaming video.

For decades, educators around the world have relied on Films Media Group to provide outstanding media content to engage, enrich, and inspire their students. Now FMG's unparalleled content collection is paired with a digital delivery system that gives you the power of choice and puts you in control of your content.

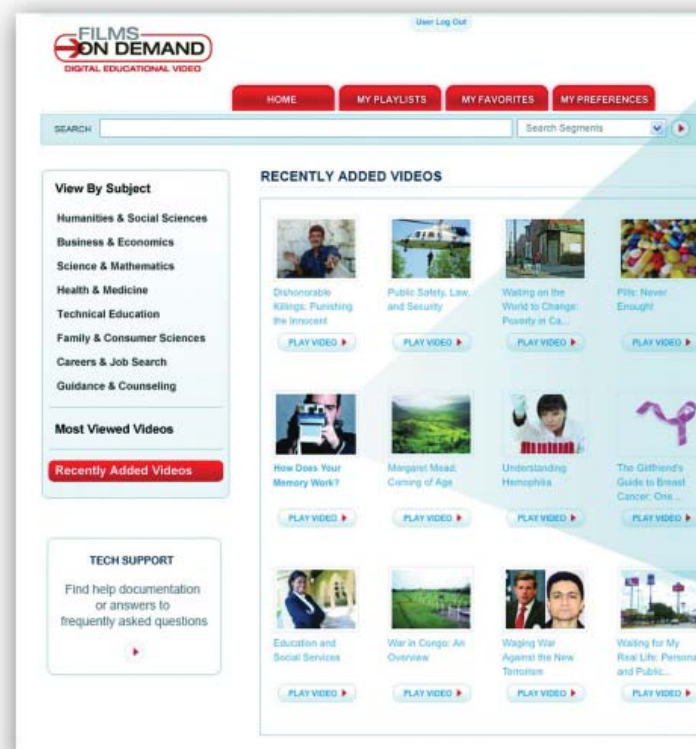

Welcome to Films On Demand.

Our state-of-the-art digital delivery system makes it easy to bring up-to-date, world-class content directly into the classroom. Films On Demand contains thousands of streaming videos or up to 50,000 segments provided by the Films Media Group (includes videos from the following publishers: Films for the Humanities, Cambridge Educational, Shopware, and Meridian.)

Our digital content is available in bundled "collections" or as individual titles. And no matter what digital content you choose, you have the flexibility to view it when and how you want.

We have segmented our titles into eight comprehensive collections - from timely topics to timeless classics - to save you money and effort. Perfect for any academic library.

- Business & Economics
- Careers & Job Search
- Family & Consumer Sciences
- Guidance & Counseling
- Health
- Humanities & Social Sciences
- Science
- Technical Education

Films On Demand offers significant benefits to educators and students:

- The Films On Demand interface allows customers unrestricted, asynchronous, 24/7 direct access to your digital content, anytime and anywhere you need it. All programming includes public performance rights.
- FMG digital video is organized into pre-defined segments so they can be integrated into lectures and presentations with ease.
- FMG digital video is correlated to appropriate curriculum.
- FMG digital video is searchable by keyword, subject, or correlation.
- Four different types of automated user authentication are supported, allowing members of approved educational institutions to access their FMG digital video collection seamlessly and easily.

- Using Films On Demand, you can create customized segments and playlists that show only the specific content you want your students to see. Organize and share your video through “Playlist Options” and “Share Playlist”.
- Experience the FMG digital video difference and make it easier than ever before to transform facts into understanding, knowledge into insight, and skills into measurable achievement.
- Subject-specific collections are available on an annual subscription basis. Pricing is based on number of students. Collections are “dynamic” - new titles are automatically added to appropriate collections every month at no charge.
- Or if you’re only interested in specific titles, you can purchase individual titles for a 3-year lease.

- View as Adobe® Flash® Video in 400k, 700k & 1.5 MBPS streams for fast, high-quality viewing for both Windows and Mac users. Or view as Windows Media® video files in 300k streams.
- Closed captioning on many titles.
- Easy-to-Use Administrative tools allows you to assess usage reports, user controls, and default settings.
