SUPERBODIES with Dr. Greg Wells

We've all admired what an athlete can do, from the outside. Now imagine seeing what goes on inside an elite body at work as it unleashes a quadruple jump on the ice, or pilots a sled against crushing G-force pressure.

Hosted by Dr. Greg Wells, a scientist specializing in extreme human physiology, this fascinating series of 12 television vignettes gives the viewer a revealing look at the forensic science of sports.
