Here's what some subscribers have to say about ON-CORE:

"At the Queen's U Education Library we love On-Core's Curriculum/Grade/Course/Strand search, the teacher resource guides, and most recently, the helpful addition of the Indigenous Content Only limiter that is so useful as we work to respond to the TRC's Calls to Action."

- Brenda Reed, MA, MEd, MLIS
Head Education Librarian | Queen's University
Library

"ON-CORE is one of my 'go to' collections when assisting teachers to find engaging, relevant and current learning resources. Being able to search by curriculum subject, course and even strand is a significant convenience for our busy staff. The substantial content supporting our Indigenous Education initiatives ensures we are providing authentic resources and voices to support learning. While I work primarily with teachers, I've also had the opportunity to introduce ON-Core to our students for their research projects. They love that the collection is so accessible and they can always find something in their subject area."

- Patricia Sutherland
Manager of Learning Commons Services
Upper Canada District School Board
